SPECIAL ENVOY IS LEAVING REPORTED HUERTA RESIGNED

LIND AT VERA CRUZ; HAS ANOTHER NOTE

In Communication By Wireless
With Washington.

Vera Cruz, Mexico, Aug. 27.—John Lind, President Wilson's special envoy to Mexico, and Mrs. Lind arrived here from Mexico City. They were met at the station by Rear Admiral Fletcher, commander of the American squadron in Mexican waters. He held a consultation by wireless with Washington today from on board the battleship Louisiana.

On his arrival here Lind received another note from the Mexican government. This was forwarded to Washington.

Before leaving the Mexican capital Mr. Lind made certain supplementary suggestions to Senator Gamboa of the Mexican minister of foreign affairs, but these constituted no departure from the fundamentals of the American note.

The original proposals were officially announced as follows: Cessation of hostilities and a definite armistice, an early and free election, Huerta to bind himself not to be a candidate, agreement by all parties to abide by the results of the election.

HUERTA OUT?

Trevino Reported to Have Been Selected Provisional President.

El Paso, Tex., Aug. 27.—It was rumored here and admitted by prominent men in Juarez that advices from Mexico City have been received by army officials in Juarez and Chihuahua that Huerta already has resigned. It was stated Huerta left Mexico City secretly for Vera Cruz, ostensibly going a short distance out of the city for a days rest. His resignation, it is stated in Juarez, was sent in a sealed envelope to Senator Gamboa and the contents of the note sent to Washington.

General Geronimo Trevino, it is stated, already has been chosen as Huerta's successor, and will assume charge of the provisional government as soon as he can reach Mexico City.

SAID TO BE DEFECTIVE

Hogan Challenges Referendum Petitions From Hamilton County.

Columbus, O., Aug. 27.—The results of the house-to-house hunt for signers of referendum petitions at Cincinnati made by state employees under the direction of Assistant Attorney General Peter Dempsey are being disclosed by Attorney General Hogan. John O'Connell, examiner under the state liability board of awards, was one of these amateur detectives put on the stand when the inquiry was resumed before Secretary of State Graves.

Judging from such names as he had investigated, O'Connell said he thought the majority of the signatures to the Warren petition were genuine. Attorney General Hogan challenged all petitions on which there were one or more signatures which O'Connell testified he found to be unmistakably fraudulent.

Miner Fatally Injured.

Coshocton, O., Aug. 27.—Benton Bible, 28, was fatally injured when three kegs of powder exploded at the Davis Tyrone coal mine, near here. The flesh on Bible's body was burned almost to a crisp.

Woodsfield, O., Aug. 27.—When a falling tree struck an old derrick being built by Philip F. Burkhardt, Burkhardt fell from the top of the rig and was killed. The tree had just been cut down.

TAXING OF EXPECTANT DIVIDENDS DENOUNCED

SENATORS ASSAIL THE INCOME TAX

Very First Paragraph Draws Fire of Root, Borah and Others.

WILLIAMS WOULD REWRITE IT

Plan to Tax Expectant Dividends as a Part of the Incomes of Shareholders in Corporations Held Incomprehensible as a Legal Proposition. Idaho Senator's Amendment Increasing the Rate Is Voted Down.

Washington, Aug. 27.—The senate has taken up the consideration of the income tax feature of the Underwood-Simmons tariff bill. At the very outset the Democratic leaders in charge of the bill met vigorous opposition. It was evident before the first paragraph of the income tax law had been read that the entire provision was to be attacked. Senators Root, Borah and Cummins made onslaughts on it.

After Senator Root and Senator Borah had attacked subdivision No. 2, under paragraph A of the income tax amendment, Senator Williams, chairman of the subcommittee which has the income tax in charge, asked that the subdivision be recommitted for the purpose of rewriting it. Senator Root pointed out that this feature of the income tax law proposed to tax expectant dividends as a part of the incomes of shareholders in corporations. He contended that a shareholder had nothing tangible or taxable in an expected dividend from stock.

Senator Borah declared that "as a legal proposition it was incomprehensible."

Senator Root pointed out that if such profits were to be taxed legally, it must be as the income of the corporation and not as the income of the individual, because it would not be a part of the individual income until after the directors of the corporation had met and formally declared the dividends.

Finally the matter was allowed to go over, and Senator Williams will make an effort to reconstruct the language to overcome the objections urged against it.

Senator Borah is an advocate of the income tax. He objected to the income tax amendment because it did not go far enough, and the first vote came on an amendment he had offered to subdivision No. 1, increasing the house tax. This amendment was lost by a vote of 47 to 17. All of the Democrats and many of the regular Republicans voted against Mr. Borah's amendment.

Senator Borah's amendment, which was voted down, proposed the following additional tax: One per cent on incomes from $10,000 to $30,000; 2 per cent from $30,000 to $50,000; 3 per cent from $50,000 to $80,000; 4 per cent from $80,000 to $100,000, and 5 per cent above $100,000.

General Carranza, Huerta's Enemy May Be Forced to Bow to Will Of President Wilson's Peace Plan

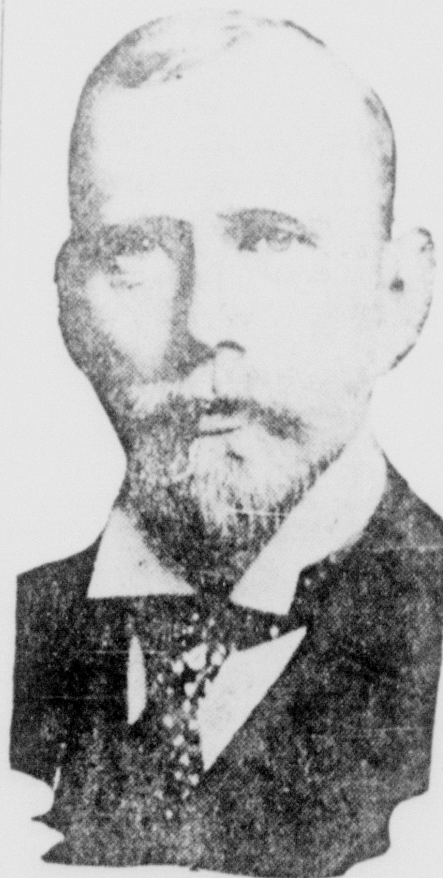

Mexico City, Aug. 27.—When John Lind, personal representative of President Wilson, came here to lay plans for the settlement of Mexican difficulties before Provisional President Huerta it was thought that he would endeavor to see General Carranza, the leader of the constitutionalists, who is trying to overthrow Huerta and gain control of the government. General Carranza never acknowledged the presidency of Huerta and has been his bitterest foe. It was believed here that any plans that might be presented through ex-Governor Lind would have to include the voluntary or involuntary concurrence of Carranza.

Philippine Commissioner Says
Slavery Exists in the Islands.

The war department has received a communication from W. Cameron Forbes, the governor general of the Philippines, enclosing a report from Dean C. Worcester, a member of the Philippine commission, alleging that slavery exists in the islands. Mr. Worcester gives instances where natives are held in bondage. He charges that members of the Philippine assembly own slaves and cites this as a reason why the assembly has declined to enact anti-slavery legislation.

FESS ON COMMITTEE TO BOOST POLITICS

Senators and Representatives Select Campaign Committee.

Washington, Aug. 27.—Republican senators and representatives at a joint caucus chose most of the members of the Republican congressional committee, which will begin work soon on the congressional campaign. Every state was accorded one representative, the choice of the state delegation in the senate and house. The Ohio member of the committee is Representative Fess. The full committee will probably meet within a fortnight and elect a chairman and other officers and perhaps consider campaign policies.

THAWS PLAY SHREWD GAME

EXPECTED TO CLOG WHEELS

HABEAS CORPUS WRIT WITHDRAWN

Thaw's Attorneys Gain Delay By Making a Shrewd Move.

CASE HOPELESSLY ENTANGLED

Counsel For New York Authorities
Admit They Don't Know How to Force Their Prey From Jail Into a Courtroom—Situation Without Precedent in History of Canadian Jurisprudence—Jerome's Statement.

Sherbrooke, Que., Aug. 27.—Harry Thaw's attorneys made an unexpected move that apparently has thrown his case into an almost hopeless entanglement. The habeas corpus writ was withdrawn. As a result Thaw is locked up on a charge that his attorneys say is not an offense against Canadian law. Counsel for the New York officers here admit that they don't know how to force him from jail into a courtroom. It is said that the immigration authorities can't interfere under the present conditions. If Thaw wants to bide his time in the hospital ward of Sherbrooke's jail, he may be able to do so indefinitely.

The case is said to be without precedent in the history of Canadian jurisprudence. Locally the move is regarded as a shrewd one on the part of Thaw's attorneys. They have at least gained what they want—delay, and they have done more. They have slipped from a position where they were on the offensive to one which permits them to sit back and take notes while awaiting a move by counsel for the New York representatives.

Thaw himself regarded the new aspect of his standing in Canada with a self-assured smile and a stretch of his arms.

Meanwhile William Travers Jerome, now a deputy attorney general for New York, here to see Thaw is not turned loose in the world, didn't seem to consider the altered situation with consternation or even alarm. Instead of commenting at great length or little length on a situation the legal aspects of which he says he is not yet familiar with, he straightway set about to "distill Canada regarding the real moral fitness" of their famous prisoner. So while Thaw was pondering over ways and means of creating sympathy for himself in the Dominion, Jerome was speaking for publication in this way:

Jerome's Statement.

"Some Canadians seem to regard Thaw as a martyr. No one is persecuting Thaw. New York is trying to get him back, not because it wants Thaw but because the effect of his continued freedom at a time when socialistic tendencies are rampant in the country is bad. If he should remain free everyone would say that the Thaw millions kept him out of Matteawan. Already they say that those millions got him out. All over the country you hear that a rich man can do anything he wishes, but that a poor one stands no chance. What does New York state want of such a degenerate? Canada might keep him and welcome were it not that it is New York's duty to get him back."

The writ of habeas corpus was withdrawn by the filing with the superior court of a declaration signed by Thaw and W. L. Shurtleff, his attorney of record. Attached to the declaration of withdrawal was a clause reserving the right to renew the writ on application. This reservation was made in the event that counsel for New York state makes a move which does not suit the fancy of Thaw's attorneys. In this way they

COUNTY BUDGET COMMISSION HAS COMPLETED WORK

One-Half Mill Road Tax Levy Is Principal Cause For Big Increase In Nearly Every Taxing District in The County.

SEVERAL DISTRICTS FAIL TO SECURE SUFFICIENT AMOUNT

Rate in Washington Raised From 13 Mills to 13.50 Which Represents The Limit—Bloomington Short $1,300 Notwithstanding That The Limit Is Reached—Few Districts Remain Unchanged.

The County Budget Commission has finished its work and the taxing rate in nearly every district in the county for the next fiscal year will be considerably higher than the rate fixed by the Budget Commission last year.

Notwithstanding the substantial increases, a number of districts desired a higher rate in order to secure funds for carrying on the school and other work, but the Commission could not go beyond the limit, and the taxing districts having insufficient funds must conduct business accordingly.

In this city the rate was increased one-half mill, making the new rate 13.50 mills. Bloomington, where the new rate is 13.70 mills, will be short some $1,300 in school funds. In this city the limit was reached and still more money desired, as in the other districts where the rate is insufficient to meet all demands.

Such of the increase is due to the one-half mill levy assessed for state road building, and the amount that will be derived from the half-mill is about $18,500. However, under the plan devised for distributing the road funds this county will receive nearly $20,000 more than the actual amount raised in the county by the half-mill levy.

While some of the districts will have an increased rate, the conditions in others were such that the rate, with the addition of the half-mill for road building, will be the same, or even less.

A glance at the following table showing the new rate and the old will inform tax payers whether or not they are in districts where taxes will be higher than heretofore:

VALUABLE DONATION TO PUBLIC LIBRARY

The Public Library of this city is indebted to the late Major W. L. Shaw for the valuable donation of 25 standard volumes, covering the field of history and classics, expensive volumes which have been needed in the library and are a decided acquisition to its shelves.

Major Shaw was a member of the first board of Library Trustees and always retained a deep interest in the library. An intellectual man, of wide reading and research, his own library was an exceptionally fine one. Mrs. J. L. Rothrock presented the volumes, which were accepted by the Board of Trustees with deep appreciation at a meeting Tuesday night.

Dr. W. E. Ireland was elected president of the Board of Trustees to take the place left vacant by the resignation of Mr. O. J. Mobley, at Tuesday night's meeting.

FRANCIS B. HARRISON TO CARRY OUT PARTY PLANS FOR THE PHILIPPINES

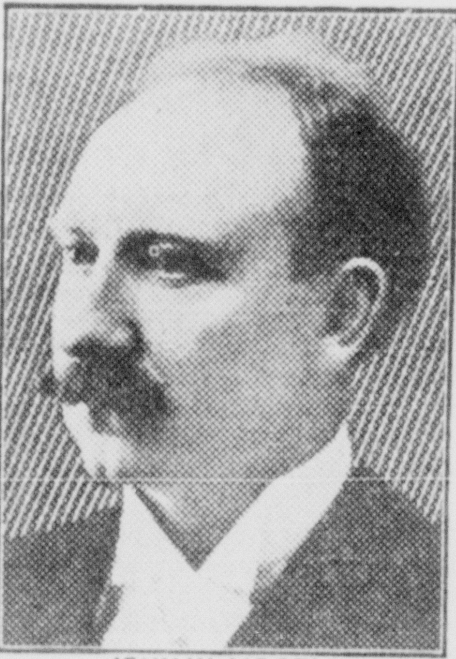

F. B. HARRISON.

Washington, Aug. 27.—Francis Burton Harrison, representative in congress from the Twentieth New York district, was selected to be governor general of the Philippines. Mr. Harrison is a member of the ways and means committee of the house and has played a prominent part in the two revisions of the tariff which have been prepared by that committee in the last three years.

The service to which Mr. Harrison has been called is all the more important because of the pledge in the Democratic platform of Philippine independence. Mr. Harrison was born December 18, 1873, in New York city, was graduated from Yale in 1895 and later received the degree of LL.B. from the New York law school, where he was an instructor from 1897 to 1899. In 1898 he was admitted to the bar.

VOGEL'S MINSTRELS GIVE FREE CONCERT

JOHN W. VOGEL, THE MINSTREL KING.

The big John W. Vogel minstrel band cut loose at 11:30 o'clock today and filled the streets with the sweet strains of music that only a minstrel band can deliver.

With bands playing, bugles blaring, drums crashing, flags and banners flying and thirty members of this famous organization marching in true minstrel style the parade took on the semblance of circus pageant.

The entire company was uniformed in the flashiest parade suits ever seen here. The selection this season is a bright yellow trimmed with black silk braid with a large sunflower upon a black background decorating the left breast. A bystander remarked as the parade was passing that the bands and cymbals were unnecessary as the suits could be heard for several blocks.

The big military band is under the personal direction of Bandmaster James L. Finning and, although the assertion is a broad one, is the best band ever carried by Mr. Vogel. Another concert will be tendered the lovers of fine music tonight promptly at 7:15.

They appear at the Empire Opera House tonight. Vogel's Minstrels are favorites in this city.

A great deal of local interest centers in Royal Cadet.

PATRONAGE FIGHT RESULTS IN THE VINDICATION OF DR. WM. PRINCE

Washington, August 26.—The Senate Post Office Subcommittee, composed of Senators Vardaman of Mississippi, and Bryan of Florida, Democrats, and Townsend of Michigan, Republican, exonerated Dr. Will Prince, of Piqua, Ohio, today of the charges preferred against him by the Miami County Democratic Executive Committee, by reporting a recommendation that his nomination as Postmaster be confirmed.

No written report was made to the full committee other than the recommendation for confirmation. Consequently there was no detailed discussion of the charges in the committee.

Representative J. D. Post, of Washington C. H., who recommended Prince and fought the Miami County organization in its efforts to discredit the candidate, was naturally elated over the outcome of the case. His name went on the active confirmation calendar of the Senate tonight, and the confirmation can be expected in a day or two.

Post telegraphed congratulations to Prince tonight. Prince's attorney, J. D. Barnes, of Sidney, Ohio, said that in consequence of the vindication of his client, criminal prosecution of those who preferred the charges is to be begun.

Also Considers Question of Inviting Next General Conference to This City but Definite Action Is Postponed for Time Being—Report on Church Affairs Shows Prosperous Condition in All Departments

The official board of Grace M. E. church at the fourth quarterly conference held Tuesday evening, unanimously adopted a resolution to be presented at the coming annual session of the Ohio Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, asking the return of Rev. Frederick E. Ross to Grace church for the next conference year. The action of the board is a result of the splendid work of Rev. Ross for the year just drawing to a close.

The board also discussed the matter of inviting the annual Ohio Conference to hold its 1914 session in this city. Definite action was postponed for the time being, however, and the question will again be taken up before Conference convenes. Sentiment is strongly in favor of inviting the Conference, which is composed of some 300 ministers, to meet here, and indications were that Washington may be the next meeting place. It has been some 17 years since this city entertained the minister of the Conference.

Reports made by the church officials show the church in excellent condition in every way, and in better financial condition than for many years. The total membership at the present time is 1294 with 47 additional probationers who have not yet been received into full membership.

Rev. Ross' report showed that during a six weeks' revival 290 conversions occurred, and 206 persons have been received into full membership during the year, 61 of these being by letter and 5 by transfer. Forty-seven probationers are not included in the above list of members.

The report further shows 320 members enrolled in the Men's Bible class, 200 in the Women's Bible class and 50 in the Junior league. The Epworth League has been reorganized and has had charge of the vesper services.

All departments are reported in good condition, and the official board is greatly pleased with the manner in which the affairs of the church are progressing.

The Price of Permanent Peace

Prospects for peace in Mexico and a readjustment of the relations between the people of that unhappy land and this nation were immeasurably brightened by the request of the Huerta faction, now in control of the shell of government, for a reconsideration of the peace proposals sent forward by President Wilson.

After Huerta and his associates had absolutely declined to accept the proposals of peace as delivered by John Lind, and the special envoy had bade good bye to those de facto Mexican officials, with whom his mission brought him in contact and had set about to depart from the country, Huerta made one of the lightning like changes of front, for which he has become famous, and recalled his rejection of the proposals and asked that negotiations be once more entered upon.

As a consequence, President Wilson did not give to Congress and the world the full text of the peace proposals as he had determined to do as soon as they were formerly and finally rejected by Huerta.

Enough has been made public by the National administration at Washington, it seems, to justify the assertion that one of the proposals which President Wilson makes is that Huerta must step down and out. He must resign the presidency and pledge himself not to become a candidate for the office in the election which the proposals stipulate must be held at once.

The knowledge of that fact is only confirmatory of the belief which the American people have entertained from the time President Madero was assassinated.

While President Wilson has said nothing and done nothing directly, which would warrant the belief that he was unalterably opposed to Huerta, every general action he has taken has been proof that President Wilson would never, by recognition, place the American people in the position before the world of approving the bloody means which placed Huerta in power.

No man, the people of civilized nations believe with President Wilson, can rightfully claim title from the people whom he proposes to serve, under a republican form of government by any such bloody method.

So long as the presidency of the Mexican republic is attained and held by the sword, just so long will the Mexican people be in rebellion. Repeated recognition of such officials by outside powers will not bring peace to a troubled people. Huerta must, sooner or later, succumb to the same methods by which he succeeded.

Peace cannot be, it has been demonstrated, forced on the Mexican people by tyrants who believe that might is right. To justify such conduct is but to postpone peace in Mexico and the United States might as well start with Huerta as with the successor who will follow after him, or his successor's successor, to place its stamp of disapproval on the rule of the sword in Mexico.

Huerta has doubtless read in the steadfast adherence of President Wilson to the proposals for peace in Mexico, the handwriting on the wall, that the day of real accounting has come; that after Huerta must come a republic in Mexico; that this nation no longer joins hands with those whose conduct means that the war of the Mexican people for freedom will continue indefinitely.

Peace in Mexico can only come by a recognition of the Mexican people and their rights. The day of tyrant rule in Mexico is either at an end or the United States will withhold recognition.

Poetry For Today

THINK HAPPY THOUGHTS.

Think happy thoughts!
Think always of the best.
Think of the ones that you love, not those that you detest;
Think of your victories, and not your failures here.
The smile that pleased and not the hurtful sneer;
The kindly word and not the harsh word spoken.
The promise kept, and not the promise broken;
The good that you have known and not the bad.
The happy days that were and not the sad;
Think of the rose and not the withered flower,
The beauty of the rainbow and not the shower,
Think happy thoughts!

Think happy thoughts!
This is true happiness!
That life is sad that feeds on its distress;
That mind is gloomy that subsists on gloom,
And is as dismal as a curtained room,
Where daily comes the sunshine, but to find
It can not enter through the closed drawn blind,
Fling up the curtains of your mind today
And let the morning sunshine in to play;
Dwell on the joys and not the sorrows here,
Master your thoughts and you have mastered fear.
Think happy thoughts!

INTERESTING BITS OF NEWS

(By John E. M. Kerr.)

Hope has not been abandoned by the managers of the Panama exposition that both Great Britain and Germany will reconsider the decision not to participate. The statement by the English prime minister in reply to an inquiry to the effect that the decision not to share in the Fair was final is not taken so by the commercial interests of either country. The Times has declared that it expects to see the wish to take part fulfilled and that the expenditure of $1,250,000 is a trifle when the returns are considered. The press declare the success no wise contingent on the action of Great Britain and Germany.

The fur farming industry is now firmly established on Prince Edward Island and by far its most important branch is the production of silver black foxes. This line of fur has proved extremely profitable as is shown by figures: Value of young foxes produced in 1913, $3,000,000. Number of farms where silver fox, cross fox, red fox, mink and other fur animals are kept, 499. Incorporated ranches, 100. Authorized capital $8,405,000. Silver foxes, about 15,000. The ranch bred foxes are much more valuable than the wild animal. The silver fox can be produced in captivity, under skilled breeders with the same certainty as sheep or hogs. The average price of the pelts sold last year was $1.085, and one sold for $1.995 33.

With the intention of helping along woman suffrage, Senator Jones, of Washington, has offered a bill setting aside a large space between the Capital and the Union Station for statues and memorials to women. This space he would have known as the "Parthenon." Senator Jones, despite intense opposition from anti-suffragists is in earnest in his proposal. He has the support of other members of Congress who come from equal suffrage states.

American engineers and American capital have built a little railway in South America that will effect its commerce as much as the opening of the great canal. The railroad is but 200 miles long and runs through a Brazilian jungle. Yet the road will develop a region of valuable resources as large as the entire U. S. with Alaska thrown in. This large area embraces a large part of Bolivia as well as a great part of western Brazil. The road is called the Madeira and Mamore railway.

Once upon a time this country coined half cent pieces. Now in the states the half cent is of great service in making the customer pay the half cent more than the quoted price on a purchase or to buy a double quantity in order not to be cheated out of her half cent. To many people the new coinage of half cents would be a boon. With it for change they would not have to choose between paying more than a thing is worth or buying the double quantity.

A plan is under way to construct a ship canal from Jacksonville to the sea, connecting St. John's river with a great dock basin at Atlantic Beach. The plan provides for dredging Sherman's Creek and the improvement would provide water communication to Jacksonville and that seaside resort. The plan includes reclamation of neighboring swamp land and the planting of Palm trees along the new water course.

A GLIMPSE BACK THROUGH YEARS

(John E. M. Kerr.)

June 29, 1871.

On last Friday evening a debate was held before a large audience in the Academic Hall, Bloomington, between H. E. Brown and J. L. Houser, students. The question under discussion was "Which is the mother of the chick, the hen that laid the egg, or the one that hatched it?" Judges were chosen, but the speakers taking such opposite standpoints, one looking at the subject naturally, the other morally, the Judges could not decide the question, but complimented the young men highly for so thoroughly exhausting such an eligible subject.

The following, the leading business firms in Washington have agreed to close their business houses on the Fourth of July:

Robinson & Silcott, S. N. Yeoman, H. P. Ferguson & Co., Bing Steinhart & Co., J. C. King & Co., James N. Lease, C. Duffee & Sons, Stuckey Bros., Joe N. McLean, Dahl & Getz, Ely & Stimson, Jacob Light, M. S. Sager, Wm. Robinson & Son, John Miser, Grubbs & Ellis, Haas & Shaft, Dan Wendel, J. W. & W. P. Cleveland and D. Furtwangler.

Col. Yeoman is still sanguine of getting a railroad through from Columbus to Ripley. He is going to New York in a few days to consult with Mr. Vanderbilt in regard to the matter. He receives encouragement from numerous parties in Columbus. He will keep the public posted through the Herald.

Facility In Divorce Helps to Improve Morality In Marriage

By E. de FOREST LEACH, President of the National Divorce Reform Association

MARRIAGE is not, as is generally considered, a fiction. Two classes look upon it as such. Churchmen regard marriage as a THEOLOGICAL FICTION. Lawyers regard it as a purely LEGAL FICTION.

That marriage is a biological fact, having its position in nature well prescribed by easily defined terms; that it is much older than and CAN EXIST ENTIRELY INDEPENDENT OF THE RELIGIOUS AND LEGAL LIMITATIONS with which some have sought to encumber it, is recognized, I think, by all scholars who search after truth without being blindfolded.

FACILITY IN DIVORCE IS A MOST POTENT AGENCY IN IMPROVING THE MORALITY IN MARRIAGE. FORMERLY ANYTHING WAS CONSIDERED PROPER WHEN THE MAN AND WOMAN WERE MARRIED. THE MISSION OF MORALITY SEEMED TO CEASE WITH THE MARRIAGE CEREMONY.

Personally I have never known a divorce but was MORE MORAL THAN THE MARRIAGE IT DISSOLVED. I cannot imagine a more immoral and degrading condition for a civilized man and woman to live in than to be compelled to live together when they do not want to.

Of course there are many persons who will agree with this statement and who may well say: "Let them separate. Let them live apart, but under no condition let them remarry."

Those who make such statements LITTLE REALIZE THE FORCES WITH WHICH THEY ARE DEALING. Their blindness or shallowness would be little less than amusing were it not for the suffering which such condition causes. Better informed persons shudder at the consequence of such a practice.

DISCUSSES ECONOMIC SIDE OF PROPOSED NEW CHARTER

Councilman Durant, Who Has Made a Careful Study of Commission Form of Government, Gives a Few Reasons Why It Should Better Local Conditions.

SAYS EVERYTHING TO GAIN AND NOTHING TO LOSE.

If Commission is Chosen, Frames a Charter and It Is Adopted—Points Out Few Reasons Why Citizens Should Vote for Commission to Frame a Charter for Washington.

Councilman John C. Durant has at the request of The Herald, consented to express his opinion on the approaching charter commission election and those views together with the reasons advanced by Mr. Durant in support of his position are here presented.

Read what Mr. Durant says. It is worthy of the serious consideration of every voter in Washington.

Mr. Durant says:

To the Editor Daily Herald: In considering the question of a charter commission, it might be well to suggest an opportunity for efficiency, and an opportunity for greater efficiency, and an opportunity for economy, under a charter government, framed under the Home Rule provision of the constitution, neither of which is possible under our present municipal code.

As it is, we have a clerk of the service department, a clerk of the safety department, a clerk of council, a treasurer, and an auditor, with a total salary of $1000 a year.

If a charter commission should so plan, and the electors should adopt the plan, these offices could be combined into one, with sufficient salary to require a commissioner to be in his office at least eight hours a day. Of course he should be under bond, while at the same time, his records and accounts would be subject to state inspection as required by the constitution. Under such a plan the public records would not be scattered here and there, and going to destruction, and if a citizen wished to transact business with the city, he could know exactly where to find an officer with all the records at hand, and where he could file request of complaint.

Of course, if the object in having officers, is to make as many places as possible for petty politicians who may trifle with the public business and shift responsibility, then the present plan can hardly be improved. But if the object is to serve the real needs and convenience of the public, then a commission will have little trouble in making a better plan. Let no one infer that we can do with less men.

SPRINGFIELD ADOPTS CHARTER JOINING PROGRESSIVE CITIES BY OVERWHELMING MAJORITY

Neighboring City Casts 5,957 Votes For a Charter and Only 2,651 Against It—Will Elect Commissioners on Non-partisan Ballot—City Manager Plan Selected.

Springfield yesterday voted for the adoption of a city charter by an overwhelming majority, 5,957 votes being cast for the charter and only 2,651 against it, giving the charter a majority of 3,306 votes.

The charter was framed by a commission elected sometime ago, and while the politicians made a hard fight against the adoption of a charter, the citizens of Springfield saw a better and more satisfactory form of government ahead and cast their votes accordingly.

The charter is similar to that adopted in Dayton and other Ohio cities, and which has been in force in many cities throughout the United States.

The charter adopted by the voters of Springfield yesterday provides for the election of five commissioners, who will in turn select a city manager.

The commission will be elected at the November election. Provision has been made for the initiative, referendum and recall. Also for a strict control of public utilities with the right of the city to purchase them at their physical value.

TWO MEN HURT IN CAVE-IN AT THE M. HAMM FACTORY

John Forsha and John Cramblitt, both employees of The M. Hamm Fertilizer Company, were injured by being caught in a cave-in about 8:30 Wednesday morning.

The men were engaged in digging down the fertilizer, which is in a huge hill, when a cave-in occurred, the fertilizer falling upon them with such force that Forsha's left leg was broken above the knee and Cramblitt was painfully bruised.

Both men were given immediate attention and are resting easy. They have been employed in the plant for several years, and had been warned to beware of the overhanging wall of fertilizer, which was some 25 feet in height.

The Beauty and Glories of Ohio Are Gathered and Garnered

It costs more to live today than ever before, but it is worth more. The onward and upward march of the Ohio State Fair is a sure index of progress in the right direction. Clean and moral in all details it enjoys the respect of all citizens. Its standard of excellence is what other expositions try to attain. Educational in all its parts, it points the way to better and more profitable living. It is a helping hand to thousands who are ambitious to see what the workers of the world are doing. It is a Congress of the Breeds, and the great impetus for better live stock. It unfolds the secrets and mysteries of better agriculture. It portrays in a great exhibit the marvelous evolution of farm machinery. The art and skill of man and woman are arrayed and arranged to attract and instruct. The value and cost of the State Fair runs into millions. On Monday, Sept. 1, it will be complete when the gates open. Ohio is invited to attend. A. P. SANDLES, President Agricultural Commission of Ohio. Columbus.

All Parties Make Choice Of Whitman In New York

ing the threat of John Purroy Mitchell, turned down William A. Prendergast for comptroller and George McAneny for president of the board of aldermen. Although the members of the committee heard a letter read from Mr. Mitchell saying he would not accept the nomination for mayorality on the Independence league ticket unless his two associates, they designated for comptroller Joseph J. Howell, a manufacturer of Brooklyn, and for president of the board of aldermen Dennis McAvoy of Manhattan.

The committee threw both McAneny and Prendergast down twice. First, the committee adopted a resolution which said that both men had deliberately broken their platform pledges on which they were elected and had acted in shameful disregard of the public welfare and were unworthy of support; secondly, when nomination were made for comptroller and president of the board of aldermen, both men were named, but both were defeated.

VOTE WAS A TIE

Ohio Cities May Hold Nonpartisan Nomination Primaries.

Columbus, O., Aug. 27.—Cities may have nonpartisan elections. So the supreme court decided in a decision given in the Cleveland charter case. The court was a tie in the decision, three votes to affirm the lower court judgment and three voting to the contrary. As it takes four to reverse the effect of the tie is to affirm the decision of the lower court, which was that the city could hold a nonpartisan nomination primary. Attorney General Hogan will ask for a rehearing of the case. It is probable that this will be done when the seventh member of the court will have been appointed by Governor Cox.

Fair Turn Stiles.

Stand up and be counted and register at the gates of the Ohio State Fair. As a rule folks who have been operated upon for appendicitis claim to be more patriotic than the rest of us. A silver half dollar deposited in the coin box of Ohio's big exposition will be sowing the seed of a great harvest. The coin box and turn stile at the State Fair make men and women all one size. The politician and millionaire all take the same kind of medicine. The Governor of the State, the Farmer, and the man with influence all look alike to the turn stile. The silver ticket is necessary to gain admission to the Big Fair, the first week in September.
